OPENING WORDS

Now Sing We of the Brave of Old

107

♩ = 116

1. Now sing we of the brave of old
2. Of those who fought a good - ly fight
3. Who, when no gleam did point the way,
4. Who long the world's old sor - rows bore

who would not sell them-selves for gold, yet left us for lib - er - ty, for truth and right, their pa - tient pressed ev - er on, by night, by day, and, spite of and toiled and loved and suf - fered sore, and, be - ing

rich - es man - i - fold; Al - le - lu - ia!
love their chief - est might; Al - le - lu - ia!
pain, did ev - er say Al - le - lu - ia!
dead, live ev - er - more; Al - le - lu - ia!

Words: Albert M. P. Dawson, 1880-1963

Music: Giovanni Pierluigi da Palestrina, 1525-1594, adapt. by W. H. Monk, 1823-1889

VICTORY

8.8.8. with Alleluia

Affirmation of Fellowship:

May we be reminded here of our highest aspirations and inspired to bring our gifts of love and service to the altar of humanity. May we know once again that we are not isolated beings but connected in mystery and in miracle, to the universe, to this community and to each other.

Candles of Joys and Concerns

Words for Reflection

The real gap is between our subconscious belief that righteous violence can redeem us, even ennoble us, and the chastening truth that violence debases and corrupts.

Offertory Response

(to "Old Hundredth")

Please sing along from the comfort of your home

From all that dwell below the skies
Let faith and hope and love arise
Let beauty, truth and good be sung
Through every land, by every tongue.

“The Weirdness of It

Presented by Betsy Woodman

$\text{♩} = 69$

1. We would be one as now we join in sing-ing
2. We would be one in build-ing for to - mor - row

our hymn of love, to pledge our - selves a - new a no - bler world than we have known to - day.

to that high cause of great - er un - der - stand - ing
We would be one in search - ing for that mean - ing of who we are, and what in us is true.

which binds our hearts and points us on our way.

We would be one in liv - ing for each oth - er
As one, we pledge our - selves to great - er ser - vice,

to show to all a new com - mu - ni - ty.
with love and jus - tice, strive to make us free.

Let this flame remain with us, a symbol of the holiness we seek, dispelling the gloom, lighting a path to faith and hope, its radiance calling us to wholeness, casting the light of freedom, justice and peace upon the world.
